old Timers Play Preliminary Game Grayling Winning From Roscommon et al.

The base ball fans of Grayling en-The base bell fans of Grayling enjoyed a couple of interesting games Sunday and Monday and as an added attraction the "Old Timers" got out for a preliminary Monday and gave an hour fine exhibition ball playing. Large crowds attended the games and were well repaid for the money and time they spent.

The Bay City K. of C. team came to Grayling early in the season and won two games from the locals. This time that aggrigation suffered two defeats, evening up the score.

two defeats, evening up the score.

Saturday Game.

Babe Laurent was in good form Saturday and held the visitors to the hits and three runs, while his team mates piled up 11 hits and 8 runs. Grayling was strong in the field and W. Laurent and Doroh made some nice running catches in the out field that spoiled what looked like sure hits, and in their fast fielding stopped the visitors several times from getting runs. The rest of the players also played good ball, Grayling only having two errors. Bay City were charged with 3 errors.

The score by innings was as fol:

Johnson started the game for Grayling but was a little wild and received poor support from his team mates. Grayling got two scores in the first and then got generous and gave the visitors 2 in the second and 3 in the third by errors.

and 3 in the third by errors.

Grayling, got one score in the 5th and also the 6th. In the 7th Bay City got in another run giving them six. Grayling came across with two in that frame evening the score. In the 8th each team got three scores and one each in the 9th, thus forcing and one each in the 9th, thus forcing the rame into overtime.

Babe Laurent went into pitch for Grayling in the 7th and was touched up for a few runs but after he got warmed up Bay City was helpless. At that time Grayling took on a new lease of life and started hitting the ball to all the started hitting the started hit in the started hitting the started hit in the At that time Grayling took on a new lease of life and started hitting the lease of life and started hitting the side out and then started in and ball to all corners of the lot. Carl Boroh again saved his team mates by some of his long running catches, keeping up his good work of the day before.

It is plain to be seen that with C.

Johnson at short, Grayling is about 50% stronger as there he fills a big hole in the infield and the team works to a better advantage.

Both games were witnessed by good crewds and the team appreciates the interest the fans are showing. Only a few more games are booked for this season, which, so far has been a most successful year.

The score by innings was as fol-

Plans are now being worked out by Dr. R. M. Olin, commissioner of health, for antitoxin distributing stations at the most accessible points in every county. In preparation for the actual diphtheria aradication campaign which will start Jan 1 with free distribution of antitoxin, every physician health officer, nurse, school commissioner, superintendent and principal, village president and mayor is being circularized with ednayor is being circularized With ed-mayor is being circularized with educational literature.

During the first seven months of 1921-a total of 479 deaths from diphtheria was reported to the division of vital statistics. This gave the state a diphtheria death rate of 21.5 per 100,000 population up to Aug. 1. Opening of schools, it is said, will be attended with the usual increased prevalence of diphtheria unless communities employ more stringent control methods than ever before.

DAIRY DEVELOPMENT IN THE STATE.

Census atatistics just given out at Washington show that Michigan is rapidly becoming one of the leading dairying states of the nation. The increase in milk production in the past 10 years has been over 50 per centre.

The entire state has shared in this

The entire state has shared in this increase, but by far the more rapid progess has been made in that section contiguous to Bay City. Northeastern Michigan and the Thumb district in the past 10 years, have more than doubled their dairy herds while cheese factories, butter factories and cream buying stations have much more than doubled in that period.

One has but to drive through some of the rich farming territory to learn this for himself.

It is increasing from Bay county to the Brrait of Mackinaw and the cut-cover hard wood lands offer a wonderful field for the dairy farmer for they grow the richest feeds in abundance, while thousands of acres of pasturage are to be found in the unimproved lands where all kinds of clover grow and even in the buying my men the eved was stattered through the woods from the hay used in the lumber camps.

Dairying and its co-partner on the farm, stock raising, is rapidly making Northeastern. Michigan a land of well-sed years.

The time will soon be here for the convention—Sept. 21 and 22. The Grand officers are plaining a fine program of work but'd will be up to Grayling to offer to them a fitting program of entertainment and plante properly recognize and look after the delegates when they arrive. It is a fine honor to have such a gathering a fine honor to have such a gathering here and we are sure, if effort is made, that we can send every delegate away boosting for Grayling and singing its praises. We know this is as our good friend Dr. O. Palmer has always claimed and proved, "The only town on the map," but we want to make other people realize it also.

Next week we hope to be able to present a complete program of the convention and give more information bout those who are at the head of Cotton Tierney, persistent story teller with the Pittsburgh Pirates, says that on a team he played with in a certain minor league, there were two or three other sharps who made a practice of cutting bases and getting away with it pretty often, since only one umpire to the game worked in this league. Rival teams howled, but the short-cut artists were clever and the umpires always alibied they didn't see the base cutting,

Ordinary Rations Are Likely to Se Deficient in Principal Bone-Building Elements.

(Prepared by the United States Depart-ment of Agriculture.) Feeding cows for several years, according to the commonly accepted standard with little or no additional pasture, reduced the milk yield much below the optimum, it was found by experiments at the government farm at Beltsville. Md. This condition may be corrected by giving the animal a dry period of two months, and feeding during that period a ration containing legume hay and grain with a high phosphorus content, with three or four times the amount of protein re-

The results of the experiments are given in Bulletin 945, "The Influence of Calcium and Phos phorus in the Food on the Milk Yield of Dairy Cows.".

In the case of cows of which the milk yield has been reduced by several years' standard feeding, as fol-lowed at Beltsville, a greatly increased vield can be brought about by feeding 'alternated rations with phosphate' during the dry period. This is taken to mean that the ordinary rations are more likely to be deficient in one or both of the principal bone-building lements than in any other constitu-a man's medicine in an attempt to regulate the delicate organism of that same infant. Either practice is to be shunned. Heither would be tolerated by specialists in children's diseages.

Your Physician will stell you that Baby's medicine must be prepared with even greater care than Baby's food.

A Baby's stomach when in good health is too often disarranged by improper food. Could you for a moment, then, think of giving to your siling child anything but a medicine especially prepared for Infants and Children? Don't be deceived.

ERA OF WORLD PEACE FAR OFF

President Harding Outlines Policy of U. S. At Conference.

Washington — President Harding has defined the policy which will guide the administration and its representalives on the disarmament question at the coming conference of the world

With clarifying emphasis he pelled Utopian illusions that the Uni-ted States would enter the conference prepared to scrap its weapons and render itself defenseless.

Summed up the American attitude as stated by the president is this: The day of permanent world peace is far off. The end of armed conflict may never come. Civilized govern ment may never be able to scrap-their diminish the burdens of armament Ruyean literature at popular prices; this was but one of the attempts he has made, sometimes at the rick of his life, to bring his country into the current of modern thought. He was elected to the Corton, and became the leader of his party. He devents his time at present entirely to literature.

In his nevels he began in the must spanish way with pictures of local previncial life with the typen and the pictures of which he was familiar. But he deals not merely with pictures; his stories all laye an object in which their strength and the admiration for independence in without of independence in without the realism of Eole to limits which shock our more restrated fabit of mind, but despite the opposition which he has encountered at—home and abread, the author of "The Pour Horsemen of the Apsentypes" is rapidly becoming one of the must widely read of living writers.

N 1870 Marcelo Desnoyers was a in Marseilles. A popular manifestation in favor of peace, at the tation in favor of peace, at the first news of war with Prussia, influenced him to leave the country and he made an unforgettable trip to South America, where after many failures and a laborious existence, he hecame an employee of Madariaga, the centaur.

Don Madariagn's fortune was enormous. He had gained his first money us a fearless trader, and with his earnings had bought vast tracts of land, devoting them to the raising cattle. Though he had a capricious and despotic character he nevertheless felt a certain fondness for his new French oversee noyers saved his life.

"Thanks, Frenchy," said the ranch-man, much touched. "You are an allround man and I am going to reware From this day I shall speak to you as I do to my family."

Desnoyers soon married Luisa, Madarlaga's elder daughter, while young German, Karl Hartrott, a recent arrival at the ranch, married Elena. her younger sister. Seated under the awning on summer nights the ranchwith a sort of patriarchal ecstasy.

Nevertheless it may be possible to man, my daughters Argentinions the man, my daughters Argentinians, the cook Russian, his assistant Greek, the stable boy English, the kitchen serv-ants natives, Gulicians, or Italians, and among the peops are many castes and laws . . And yet all live in peace. In Europe, we would have prehably been in a grand fight by this time, but here we are all friends,"

Julio, the son of Desnoyers, was the favorite grandchild of Madariaga.
"Ah, the fine cowboy! What a pretty fellow-you are!" he would say. "Have a good time, for graudpa is always here with his money."

One evening the patron's horse came slowly home without its rider. The old when they found him he was dead. The Hartrotts moved to Berlin at once and the Desnoyers went to Paris.

Besides establishing his family in an ostentatious house in Paris, Desnoyers-bought a castle, Villeblanche-sur-Marne, a mixture of palace and fortress, where he could put his rapidly accumulating pur-chases of pulatings, furniture, statues -all those things which he carried now become his habit to frequent, The only disappointment in Demoy-ers' new life came from his childrenhis daughter Chichi because of her in dependence and Julio because of his aimless existence. Julio has had to make a trip to South America in order to realize oh a bequest from his grandfather so that he might marry the fascinating and frivolous Marguerite Laufatuated. Suddenly the cloud of war cast its shadow over this family. The self-sufficient Dr. Julius von Hartrott said to his cousin: "War will be declared rrow or the day after. Nothing can prevent it now. It is necessary for the welfare of humanity."

On the eve of mobilization Tchernoff friend of Julio's, had a vision in

Why Dog's Nose is Cold.

Tradition gives a droll explanation of the ever-chilly nose of the cunine: Noah had some anxious and annoying moments when he was trying to conx the animals into the ark. They ran hither and thither and gave him no end of bother until he had a dog chase them, making them so where they belonged. Attending strictly to his duty and not giving up until the last pig null hyens were safely inside the ark, the dog himself was the last to get shoard. So he was obliged to squeeze which he saw the Apocalyptic Bess ising out of the sea. Four terrible orsemen preceded the appearance of the monster, and these scourges of the earth, Conquest, War, Famine and Death, were beginning their mad, desolating course over the heads of terrified humanity.

Julio, being an Argentinian, was ex-empt from military service and had hoped to continue his life as though nothing were happening. His inamo-rato, however, from a woman infatuated with dress, was gradually transformed by her desire to serve. The war had made her ponder much on the values of life, and her sense of duty to the husband whom she so greatly wronged sent her back to his side when she heard that he had been severely wounded. To Julio she said. must leave me . . Life is not what we have thought it. Had it not been for the war we might, perhaps, have realized our dream, but now! . . . For the remainder of my life I shall arry the beavious bu the same time, it will be sweet, since the more it weighs me down the greater will my atonement be."

The vanquished lover said good-by to Love and Happiness, but this repulse gave him a new impetus to fill the vacuum of his empty existence.

When Paris was threatened and refugees told of the wholesale sackings of their homes. Don Marcelo began to fear for his castle, and went to Ville-blanche, arriving in time to witness the discouraged exhaustion of the ing were the invading Germans shouting joyously, "Nach Paris!"

For four days Don Marcelo lived through a period of stupefaction slashed by the most horrible visio The village was reduced to a mass of ruins before his eyes, and his household suffered unspeakably from the bestiality of the carousing officers. A war hospital was established on the estate, but moved on under the stress of battle, though the banner of the Red Cross remained to deceive the French about the artillery which was installed in the park. When a French airplane discovered this piece of treachery Don Marcelo found himself n the heart of a furious battle. The cannonading of the Germans and the bursting of French shells terrified him until at last he saw at the foot of the highway near his castle several of the the Marne. They rushed forward unmoved by the deadly fire of the Ger-mans, and he realized his beloved French were driving back the Teuton

Only ruins of his once heautiful estate were now left to him and he said farewell to Villeblanche. After his return to Paris a young soldier of the infantry called to see him. It was his son Julio, never so distinguished look-ing as in this rough, ready-made unliform. Their reconciliation was com-

It was a tortuous journey through the zigzags and curves of the trenches, while bullets buzzed like norseflies through the air, and on firough dark galleries and subterra nean fortifications until he reached the outer intrenchment line.

Desnoyers hardly recognized his son on account of his changed appearance, but in spite of his hard life Julio had ound content in comradeships such as he had never known. For the first time in his life he was tasting the delight of knowing that he was a useful being As his father left him, hope sang in his ears. "No one will kill him. My heart which never deceives me tells me so.'

Julio became a sergeant, then lieutenant and for his exceptional bravery received the Croix de Guerre. the military medal, and finally was among those proposed for the Legion d' Honneur. One afternoon during the Chumpagne offensive. Desnoyers, still cherishing the fond illusions of hope, returned to his home in gay spirits to find the dreadful news awaiting him. Julio, his son, lay dead on the field of honor.

When he went to the burial fields to find his son's last resting place he re-called Tchernoff, the dreamer, and the four terrible horsemen riding ruthless ly over his fellow creatures whom he saw in his vision, and the prophecy which he then made:

The conditions described by Mrs. Cassen, Mrs. Ball, and Mrs. McQuitty will appeal to many women who struggle on with their daily tasks in just such conditions—in fact, it is said that the tragedy in the lives of some women is almost beyond belief. Day in and day out they slave in their homes for their families—and beside the daily routine of housework, often make clothes for themselves and for their children, or work in their gardens, all the while suffering from those swful bearing-down pains, backache, headaches, nervousness, the blues, and troubles which sap the very foundation of life until there comes a time when nature gives out and an operation seems inevitable. If such women would only profit by the experience of these three women, and remember that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the natural restorative for such conditions it may save them years of suffering and unhappiness.

There is hardly a neighborhood in any town or hamtet in the United States for such conditions it may save them years of suffering and unhappiness.

There is hardly a neighborhood in any town or hamlet in the United States wherein some woman does not reside who has been restored to health by this famous medicine. Therefore ask your neighbor, and you will find in a great many cases that at some time or other she, too, has been benefited by taking it, and will recommend it to you. For more than forty years this old-fashioned root and herb medicine hasbeen restoring suffering women to health and strength.
